

"Great List of Business Men" Analyzed

Lest the people of the city and county be misled and the friends of local option over-powered by the "Great List of Business Men of Maysville," whose names were signed to the petition to the voters to perpetuate saloons in Maysville, attention is called to the following facts.

The figures herein given were taken from the County Assessor's book because an effort for twenty-four hours failed to gain access to the City Assessor's books.

1. The men whose names were signed to the petition represent $328,444 of taxable values out of a total assessment of $3,154,850—about one-tenth.

2. Twelve (12) men represent $209,750 of this amount—about two-thirds and one of that number a wholesale liquor dealer, gives in $76,750.

3. Twenty-eight (28) men pay tax on less than $1,000.

Fifteen (15) pay on less than $500.

Eight (8) pay on less than $300.

Four (4) pay on less than $200.

The names of sixty-six (66) men of this "Great List," numbering in all one hundred and thirty-three (133)—one-half the list, lacking one—are not on the Assessor's books.

4. Three (3) names on that list are not residents of the city.

5. According to their own statement, six (6) men who so state and we do not know how many more, signed the petition without reading it, upon representation of those carrying the petition that it was an effort to rid the town of "blind tigers." These men say they will vote "Dry." There may be others in the same case.

6. One man said he signed the petition out of business courtesy but that he would vote "dry."

7. Twenty (20) names in the list are directly or indirectly interested in the liquor business—now in the business—renting houses for some branch of the business, or have made their money out of liquor or belong to families in the business.

8. The names of four out of five (5) of the bankers signed to the petition do not appear on the City Assessor's book for the county, from which we conclude that they pay no taxes to the city of Maysville.

It would appear that the financially responsible members of the banks represented by these names, did not sign the petition either from conviction or from policy.

It is something apart from the purpose of this article, but yet a matter of interest, that the City Assessor and City Clerk made the verbal statement that the taxable values of the City of Maysville are $1,224,000. The City Assessor's book for county purposes shows $3,154,850—more than $1,000,000 difference. Why this discrepancy?

When one considers that the family physician has the confidence of his patients, that he of all men should speak disinterestedly, that into the keeping of the medical profession is committed the sacred charge of preserving the health of the people, when it is admitted by the profession that alcohol is a habit-forming drug that destroys the will and wrecks both mind and body, it is not strange that only one of our twelve physicians signed this petition—and this physician must have secured some new light on the subject for at a meeting held during the last local option election he declared that he did not and would not prescribe alcohol in any form in his practice—that other and better things could be substituted.

10. Next to the minister, who must always put spiritual values before revenue and the physician, who must put the public health before personal safety and private gain, come the lawyer, charged with the high duty of preserving peace and equity among the people. Knowing as the lawyer does from his practice how alcohol engenders strife and is the provoking cause of so many crimes, it is not strange that only six out of eighteen attorneys are found on this "Great List."

When asked to sign the petition one man replied that without committing himself to either side, as an officer of the law he would hesitate to sign a public statement that the law could not be enforced. We commend this thought to the consideration of the Mayor and the officers of the law.

Common Sense declares that this "Great List" represents the moral and financial integrity of Maysville.

It contains the names of only sixty-seven (67) tax-payers out of a population of 6,124. It represents one-tenth of the taxable values according to the County Assessor's books—about one-fourteenth according to the City Assessor's verbal statement. It contains no minister, one-twelfth of the physicians, one-third of the lawyers and only a small per cent of the business men.

Any one who knows the city can start with the Maysville Manufacturing Company and the Cotton Mills in the West End and go to the Jas. H. Hall Plow Factory and The Ohio Valley Pulley Works in the East End, and he will find that only five large concerns, two of them wholesale liquor houses are in the "Great List."

The bulk of the moral and financial integrity of Maysville, including Dry Goods Merchants, Milliners, Grocers, Druggists, Livery men, Haberdashers, Jewelers, Newsstands, one Newspaper, Florists, Garages, dealers in Mens' Clothing, Shoes, Furniture, Queensware, Books, Farm Implements, Farm Products, Grains and Seeds, Coal, Notions, Insurance Agents, Real Estate Agents, Lawyers, Ministers, Physicians, Dentists, Manufacturers, Millers, Photographers, Restaurants, Boarding Houses, Plumbers, Transformen, Blacksmiths, Painters, Interior Decorators, Conductors, Meat-markets, Barbers, in Maysville—except the liquor business—is conspicuous for its absence from this "GREAT LIST."

IT IS STRANGE HOW THE INFLUENCE OF LIQUOR HAS DESTROYED COMMON SENSE'S SENSE OF PROPORTION SO THAT HE DOES NOT KNOW WHETHER HE HAS HOLD OF THE BIG END OR THE LITTLE END OF A THING.

THE WORD.

Oh, a word is a gem, or a stone, or a song.
Or a flame, or a two-edged sword;
Or a rose in bloom, or a sweet perfume,
Or a drop of gall is a word.

Is the word that comes from the heart.

$35,000 VERDICT

Circuit Court Judge Harbeson Wins Suit Against Kentucky Post.

A verdict for $35,000 was Saturday awarded Circuit Judge Matt. Harbeson by a jury in Covington in his suit against the Scripps-McKel Publishing Company, which issues the Kentucky Post. The defense offered no testimony and allowed the case to go to the jury immediately after Judge Harbeson had finished on the witness stand. This amount is the same as was awarded to Judge Frank M. Tracy some time ago. The two judges brought suit about a year ago on the grounds that they had been libeled by certain stories published in the Kentucky Post.

Maysville's Best Clothing and Shoe Store.

BE UP-TO-DATE! If you were thinking of building a new home and wanted it modern, stylish and convenient, you wouldn't think of engaging an architect who is behind the times in his ways and ideas, because he couldn't give you the satisfaction you want. Surely, you'd employ a man that is up-to-the-minute, one who does his work by the latest methods.

The same principle applies to our clothes buying—we buy only of Manufacturers that build on scientific methods. These clothes are most satisfactory and in the long run least expensive; and that's the reason why clothes that bear the "Hechinger" label are worn by fully 65 per cent. of well-dressed people in this and adjoining counties. We spare no efforts to please our patrons and we know that cannot be done unless the clothes are satisfactory in style, fit and the service they give.

Fall Shoes are now in order. It is needless to say that we carry the best Men's and Boys' Shoes in town. "You know it."

In paying for your purchases remember to call for tickets on the valuable presents we are going to give away.

Quality-Offering in Children's Frocks

Emphasis on quality because such dresses are not to be had anywhere else for these lower-than-usual prices. The manufacturers who produced them took pride in every detail of their make-up and used much higher priced dresses as a guide for their good style. But because sizes are limited—2 to 6 years only, we offer these smart looking gingham frocks for 75c instead of $1.25.

JAMES BEN ALI HAGGIN

When James Ben Ali Haggin died last night Kentucky lost one of her most notable, and doubtless her wealthiest, citizen, and Lexington and Fayette county were deprived of a friend who had done much for their material advancement.

Mr. Haggin was probably the last of that coterie of strong men who invaded California in '49 and '50 and made that State famous the world over. He accumulated large means while practicing law and later devoted his extraordinary abilities in the development of mining properties. In this he was extremely successful. Subsequently he became interested in farming and stockraising and gave to the turf some of its most notable performers.

About 1886 Mr. Haggin bought the now widely known Elmendorf Farm, six miles from Lexington, and added to it from time to time other large tracts until it became one of the finest estates in the country.

In Elmendorf Mr. Haggin seemed to take a peculiar pride. Under his direction it became not only a delight to the eye, but of great benefit and value to the farming and breeding interests of Central Kentucky, as he spared neither labor nor expense in procuring everything that was best in this country and abroad in the furtherance of his ambitions to make Elmendorf Farm a model of its kind.

Naturally, a man who had reached Mr. Haggin's advanced age could not but look forward to dissolution at any time, and yet the news of his death will be a shock to his friends everywhere and especially to the hundreds of persons who had come to be grateful to him either for individual acts of kindness or for opportunity which came through him for personal advancement. Certainly the people of Lexington and Fayette county will ever hold his name in grateful remembrance.—Lexington Leader.

CLEVELAND AND WILSON

When Grover Cleveland was President the country was forced to submit to the sale of bonds to meet treasury deficiencies and now comes along the only Democratic President since Cleveland's time asking that taxes be levied upon the people of the United States to meet treasury deficiencies. Such is Democracy. If the war has had so much to do with the reduction of custom receipts, why does not the government do like corporations and individuals when they find their revenues curtailed, namely, cut down expenses?—Telegram, Chicksburg, W. Va.

MADE IN MAYSVILLE 100 YEARS AGO

Grubs & Benton are displaying in their show window about the oldest plow in the country. It was manufactured in 1814 by a Maysville firm, and has been in the same family ever since. It was purchased and used by Mrs. Grubb's grandfather, John B. Durham, who resided at that time in Nicholas county.—Winchester Democrat.

SO IS MAYSVILLE

Mobile is the pleasantest place to live in the whole world.—Mobile Register.

Since the great war turned Continental Europe into an armed camp and a daily chumbers every town in the United States feels much like Paradise.—Sun, New York.

THE LOST BAGGAGE

It is estimated by express and steamship agents that probably 100,000 pieces of damaged baggage belonging to Americans are scattered in France, Germany, Austria, Belgium and Holland. At some points, so returned tourists say, these trunks, suitcases, and other belongings were piled so high that they would have made good fortifications.

Ships returning over are bringing trunks and hand baggage that were left hurriedly behind, but so marked that they could be identified and cared for. Both the express and steamship companies have agents at work on the Continent trying to gather up this property, but as the European railroads have no checking system, travelers being expected to identify their own trunks on arrival at their destination, it is likely that much of it will never be recovered.

The fears of travelers who had invested in contraband goods with intent to deceive the customs office on reaching this side will be allayed on learning that the officers have been instructed to see that the returning trunks get to their owners without regard to smuggled contents. With this danger removed, consider how the owners of baggage that never does come to hand will mourn over their lost treasures! They will have a source of regret to last them the rest of their lives. And they sadly realize now that if they had not fallen into such a panic about getting home, and all tried to travel at once, they might have saved themselves a good deal of inconvenience and loss. The level-headed ones are now returning comfortably and with all their possessions.—Louisville Herald.

HOW THE WOMEN VOTED IN CHICAGO

Its luxurians to vote in Chicago, that is in some precincts. In the recent election in the Windy City, a Chicago dispatch says:

"While the male vote was a source of disappointment, the apparent indifference of the women to the election caused nothing short of amazement to the political observers. The total vote of the women in Cook county is estimated at less than 8,000. Only one vote was cast by a woman in some precincts. It was the first general primary in which women participated as voters.

The apathy of the women developed in spite of the fact that special efforts had been made in many of the precincts in Chicago to give a feminine touch to the polling places provided for them.

Oriental carpets in the voting booths, a grand piano on which to rest the hat, a collection of oil paintings for inspection, a genial hostess and attentive servants were offered in the Thirty-third precinct in the Third ward. Mrs. Charles H. Sergel, the hostess, welcomed voters into her home, 4575 Oakwood avenue. The polling booths were in her parlor. The judges and clerks occupied mahogany seats in her library.

"It doesn't make a bit more mess than a card party," said Mrs. Sergel. "It makes voting more of a ceremony and it is much more comfortable for the judges. If all the polling places could be placed in homes it would improve conditions and elections."

HANDED US SOME LEMONS

FAIR EXCHANGE.

The military maneuvered. All afternoon the attackers had attacked and the defenders defended with conspicuous lack of incident or bravery. Operations were beginning to drag horribly when the white flag went up.

The officers in command of the attackers started in amazement.

"A flag of truce!" he exclaimed. "What do they want?"

The Sergeant-Major endeavored to cover up a smile.

"They say, sir," he reported, "that, as it's tea time, they'd like to exchange a couple o' privates for a can of condensed milk—if you can afford it!"

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject made the astonishing statement that one reason so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

According to this it would seem that a medicine for the kidneys, possessing real healing and curative properties would be a blessing to thousands.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who prepare Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the well known kidney, liver and bladder remedy, claim that judging from evidence received from druggists everywhere, who are constantly in touch with their customers, and also indisputable proof in the form of grateful testimonial letters from thousands of reliable citizens, this preparation is remarkably successful in sickness caused by kidney and bladder troubles.

Every interesting statement they receive regarding Swamp Root is investigated and no testimonial is published unless the party who sends it is reported of good character. They have on file many sworn statements of recoveries in the most distressing cases. They state that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is mild and gentle in its action and its healing influence is soon noticed in most cases.

WASTE FIRELIGHT.

I lit the fire for you alone,
And then you never came,
The Others sat here, while the blow
Had rapture of the flame.
Sweep up the chimney to the night,
They sat and looked at me.
They found me fair by that firelight
You never came to see.
The Others love me more than you;
Yet I was angry. I
Knelt down beside the hearth and blew
The brands to make them die.
Love is a foolish, jealous thing,
I would not have them share
The flame that I set glowing
For you, who do not care!

WHY INDIANS ARE RED.

A German doctor has evolved a queer theory about the coloring of the human race—that the tint of the skin is determined by the food eaten.

Originally, he declares, the human species was black, because our primitive forefathers subsisted on fruits and roots containing manganese. The American Redskins owe their color to the consumption of raw flesh. The Mongols are yellow because of their descent from a tribe which consumed great quantities of herbs rich in chloride; and the Caucasians have to thank the salt, for which they have a great liking, for their dainty pink and white or delicate brunette complexions.

WHAT WOULD WE DO WITHOUT THEM?

"Conventional black."
"Beautiful repast."
"Few, well-chosen words."
"The fire flood."
"Charmingly rendered."
"Pleasant time was had."
"Distasteful crime."
"Dull, sickening thud."
"In limbo."

Wilmington, Ohio.—"Lying is not only detestable but dangerous," says the Journal Republican.

"The liar is the most to be despised of all wrong-doers. His work does harm coming and going. He injures others by misinforming them, and he injures himself by speaking falsely.

"There is no worse reputation one can have, to our way of thinking, than that of being a liar. There is hope for the thief and there is a chance for the murderer. Reformation and a new start are open courses for them, and they may be able to break away from their bad habits and evil practices and turn out well. But the liar, can he ever be cured? The trouble is that when a man has told the same lie a few times he forgets that it is fiction and soon comes to believe the story is true. When a liar reaches this stage, and he usually does within a short time, there is no hope for him."

"WAR IS HELL"

General Sherman Didn't Say It And, Like Many Other Popular Misquotations, It Must Go Back And Sit Down.

(New York Times.)

Half of the popular quotations are misquotations, such as "A man convinced against his will" for "He that complies against his will," "Speed the parting guest" for "Speed the going guest," and "All the world loves a lover" for "All mankind loves a lover." In view of the constant and tiresome iteration of the saying "War is hell," and its ascription to Gen. Sherman, it is somewhat of a relief to learn that this is a misquotation too. What he said, as is pointed out in a letter in The World, was "War is cruelty, and you cannot refine it."

The sentence appears in a reply of Sherman's to the protest of the non-combatant population of Atlanta against his order to them to leave the city. This order aroused great indignation throughout the South, and General Hood warmly denounced it in a letter to Sherman. It was not to Hood, but to the Mayor of Atlanta, speaking on behalf of his people, that Sherman replied, regretting the necessity for the order, and saying:

"You cannot qualify war in harsher terms than I will. War is cruelty, and you cannot refine it. . . . You might as well appeal against the thunder storm as against these terrible hardships of war. They are inevitable."

The writer of the letter, H. J. Hoffman, says he remembers hearing this reply read in general orders before Atlanta, but has verified it from the official records. How did the current misquotation start on its rounds? According to Mr. Hoffman, from an article in which occurred the sentence, "As Sherman said to the women of Atlanta, 'War is hell.'" It was this unknown writer who saddled the phrase on our memories, and not on Sherman, who said nothing at all to "the women of Atlanta"; just as it was some unknown misquoter in the employ of the Democratic National Committee who impressed forever on the mind of the American people the erroneous opinion that Grover Cleveland once said, "Public office is a public trust." What Cleveland said was "Public officials are the trustees of the people." We get most of our quotations at second hand and rarely verify them. The result is that our favorite sayings do not proceed, as we imagine, from famous authors, but from casual writers of faulty memory whose misquotations of them give them their permanent form.

1914 TOBACCO CROP VERY FINE.

(Robertson Advance.)
Robertson county has thus far a tobacco crop equal in quality to any previous season. In fact every grower will tell you that he never grew better. One crop has had our close inspection— that of our father-in-law, W. W. Tillett. He has an acre that is variously estimated to yield from 1600 to 2000 pounds. It is of the Golden Seed Leaf variety and one leaf was found to measure 28x33 inches. His crop is also of a uniform size throughout.

CROP REPORT

Corn and Tobacco Have Made a Wonderful Improvement Says Commissioner Newman

VALUABLE HINTS FOR KENTUCKY FARMERS

September 10, 1914.

A month of reasonable weather has made a vast change in the crop outlook for the State of Kentucky. Just as we issued report as of August 1st, general rains began falling throughout the State. These rains have been seasonable for the last month and not excessive. It is difficult to believe that such a change in conditions could be made within thirty days. The farmers and live stock men of the State are rejoicing over the improved conditions, and a comparison of this month's report with that of last month is made to show what a change has taken place throughout the State within the last month. The report of September 1st shows the condition of corn 83% as compared with 65% of August 1st. Burley tobacco 80% as compared with the 56%. Dark tobacco 72% as compared with 62%. Cow peas and soy beans show a condition of 81% and 82%, respectively. Bluegrass shows a condition of 82% as compared with 64%. Alfalfa 87% as compared with 65%. Clover 71% as compared with 55%. Even fruit has been greatly improved by the rains. Live stock is given as being in better condition than a month ago. Garden conditions have increased from a condition of 51% to 61%.

No one is surprised at the outcome of tobacco as a result of the rains. Tobacco is a weed and can give indications of almost a complete failure, and with seasonable weather make a fine crop. It must not be forgotten, however, that the average of tobacco is greatly reduced and the stand imperfect. The greatest surprise is the improvement made in corn. Kentucky will have an average crop of corn, although a month ago it looked like it would be a very short crop. As one report says: "The rains have made good ears of corn out of mullins." In this connection it seems advisable to call the attention of the farmers of the State to the fact that every indication points to a high price for food stuffs for next year. The United States Government authorities, the railroads and commercial bodies of the country are encouraging the sowing of a large acreage for winter wheat. The European war will undoubtedly cause the grains and live stock produced in America to bring good prices during the next few months, if not for several years. We, therefore, urge all farmers to increase their wheat acreage, and to use bone meal or acid phosphate on their wheat lands. There are but few acres in Kentucky that are not short in their supply of phosphate acid. 200 to 300 pounds of bone meal or acid phosphate per acre for wheat will usually produce a veritable investment. Rye, barley and winter oats will save corn, and should be sown as quickly as possible. All roughness possible should be saved and well cared for in order to save the feed bill for corn.

The State has not been so free of hog cholera for several years. Farmers will do well to keep their broad sows and to increase their number of sheep. Pork and mutton prices will unquestionably be high. If the war continues, the length of time wool will be much higher next year than this. Agents for European governments are busy buying horses and mules at the present time. Prices have not materially advanced, but with the war lasting for a few months, it is reasonable to expect cavalry and artillery horses, as well as mules, to very materially advance in price.

The tobacco grower will rejoice over the determination of the Federal Reserve Board to accept notes secured by warehouse receipts on tobacco to the extent of 75 per cent of the value of the crop from banks, members of the Federal Reserve Association. Taken as a whole the Kentucky farmer has reason for looking to the future with a hopeful feeling. Every indication is that peace and prosperity are in store for him.

Very truly yours,
J. W. NEWMAN,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

MRS. GEORGE W. OLDHAM

This Good Woman Answers Master's Call Last Night at Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. George W. Oldham is dead. The Public Ledger this morning at 8:40 received the following telegram from Mr. W. D. Oldham, her son: "Cleveland, O., Sept. 13, '14. "Mother passed peacefully away Sunday night at 11:05. "Services at 10:30 Wednesday morning at the Maysville Cemetery. "W. D. OLDHAM."

Mrs. Oldham was born in Maysville on September 5th, 1844.

Mrs. Oldham was the widow of George W. Oldham, who was local editor of The Public Ledger, who passed away on April 8, 1913.

Mrs. Oldham leaves six children, as follows: Thomas and Mrs. Mattie Gorman, of Cincinnati; Pickett of Newport, Ky.; Mrs. Carrie Howe of Norfolk, Va., and Mr. W. D. Oldham and Miss Carrie Oldham of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Oldham is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Alwilda Wheeler of Forest avenue, and other relatives here. Deceased went to Cleveland only two weeks ago to make her home with her son and daughter, Mr. Will Oldham and Miss Carrie Oldham, and her fatal illness was of only a few days duration.

After death was a great shock, as she left the home of Mr. W. Wheeler in fairly good health. Her remains will reach here tomorrow on the C. & O. No. 2. Funeral in the Maysville Cemetery at 10:30 a. m., Wednesday.

MR. MEERER'S LECTURE WELL ATTENDED

Mr. Jacob E. Meeker of St. Louis, Mo., gave a very interesting lecture on "The Threat of Prohibition," at the Court House Saturday afternoon, to a good crowd. Very few, if any, seats were vacant. His utterances were given "loud and long" applause.

Mr. Meeker also gave a lecture at the Court House at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The Court House was again crowded and Mr. Meeker's lecture was given the undivided attention of his audience.

German's Hurried Retreat Portends Disaster To Der Kaiser's Forces

Allies Sweeping Tautons From France and All Kinds of Rumors are Current

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

London, Eng., Sept. 13.—The sixth week of the war between Germany and France, Great Britain and Belgium has brought a vast transformation. The irresistible sweep of seven German armies through Belgium into France met an immovable force at the Marne river. The army of General Von Klueck, which so long battled to turn the allies' western flank, was itself slowly and steadily outflanked. Its retirement before the small, but hardy British army, turned the tide of battle. Today, the French reports are correct, all the German army except that facing Verdun and a few miles southwest are retreating. General Von Klueck's army, which a week ago was a few miles to the south of Paris, has retired more than sixty miles to the northeast, while on the right the army of the Bavarian Crown Prince, which was attacking the French's east line from Nancy to Epinal, has fallen back to the Lorraine frontier, permitting the French to re-occupy Lunéville and several other towns.

General Joffre, the French commander, pictures the retreat as hurried, and not disorderly, with the German's abandoning prisoners, wounded and supplies.

It's UP TO THE KAISER. Military authorities in France consider the position of the German army critical. The army that was south of the great fortress, can hardly retreat eastward owing to the danger from the strongly held French fortress of Verdun, while the mountainous wooded character of the Argonne district renders retreat due north impracticable. The left wing of the Germans must retreat in a north-westerly direction.

TESTIMONY OF CATHOLIC CLERGYMEN

The following is a statement by Cardinal Gibbons to the voters of Charles county, Maryland:

"Baltimore, Md., April 29, '14. "I believe that the right of the people to determine by the operation of a local option law whether saloons shall or shall not be closed within their respective communities is in harmony with the American principle of self-government and I congratulate the people of Charles county in that they will have the right to settle this question by ballot on May 16th, next, and realizing the damage which has been done by the liquor traffic in this country I sincerely trust that at the coming election they will banish forever the licensed saloon, as I believe that it will be to the best interest of their people.

"(Signed) "CARDINAL GIBBONS." It is interesting to know that Charles county voted "dry" on May 16th, last, by 374 majority.

"The drink traffic is a public, permanent and ubiquitous agency of degradation to the people of these realms. . . .

"The drink trade is our shame, scandal and sin. . . .

"Do you know how you will help to break up the unholy alliance between the Government and the greatest fraud of the age? VOTE AGAINST IT. "CARDINAL MANNING."

"Where saloons are licensed, how many live up to the law? Not one. Vested rights! Has the community no rights? There is no reason for the existence of saloons. Blot them all out, and what harm?

"BISHOP T. J. CONATY, "Los Angeles."

"Wherever the saloon flourishes intemperance prevails, crime increases, manhood is debased and the Church suffers loss. "BISHOP REGIS CANEVIN, "of Pittsburgh."

JAMES B. HAGGIN
Great Mine Owner and Master of Elmendorf Died Saturday at His Newport Home.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 12.—James B. Haggin, of New York, capitalist and horseman, died at his summer home here tonight, aged 92 years.

Mr. Haggin owned Elmendorf Stock Farm at Lexington, and formerly owned a stud of racing and trotting horses said to be the largest in the country.

He was president and director in several mining companies.

Mr. Haggin was a native of Harrodsburg and was educated at Danville. His first wife was a daughter of Colonel Lewis Saunders, of Natchez, Miss. Of the five children of this marriage, three survive, Louis T. Haggin, a New York business man; Mrs. Louisa Berry, wife of Richard P. Lounsbury, of Lounsbury & Co., bankers, of New York; and Mrs. McAfee. His grandson, who was also a favorite relative, Louis Lee Haggin has been living on one of the Elmendorf Farms for some years.

Mr. Haggin's second wife was Miss Paul Voorhies, of Versailles, who was a niece of his first wife. She survives him.

He was reported to be worth from fifty to eighty million dollars, much of which was invested in mining properties in this country and in South America.

He will be buried in New York.

REVEREND SPEAKING TONIGHT. Rev. J. M. Lital and Rev. J. E. Reed will speak at tonight's open-air meeting at the corner of Wood street and Forest avenue. All invited. Speaking begins at 7 o'clock.

Electric Light

Is Safe Proof Against Ignorance and Carelessness

Every day you use gas for lighting you are in danger. You are taking a chance, besides the gas releases an enormous amount of heat and uses up all the pure air in your house. Can you afford to let this condition continue?

Call and let us tell you how well the 25 gas light consumers we wired up this summer are pleased since they changed to Electric Lights.
